Nashville, Tenn. - Bluegrass sensations Jim and Lynna Woolsey are gearing up for the release of their second single from the brand new album, Long Ago. “Sugar Ridge Road” is a song that was co-written by Jim Woolsey and David Foster. The feel-good track tells the story about Sugar Ridge Road, which serves as a reminder of home, and all of the heartfelt memories and metaphors that go along with it. Singing lead, Jim Woolsey’s vocals shine bright, while Lynna's distinctive voice blends in, reminding fans why the duo are becoming more and more of a household name each day. The song placed second earlier this year at MerleFest's annual Chris Austin Songwriting Competition in the Bluegrass category.
